President Believes Crisis "Behind Us"

Eisenhower Insists He Is Doing His Job

Ike Is Questioned By "Cross-Section Americans" On TV

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower said tonight that progress on the Suez Canal dispute has been "most gratifying" and it looks as though "a very great crisis is behind us."

He made the statement in an opening announcement at an unusual television show, in which he was the target of questions from a friendly, massive television panel made up of citizens described by the White House as "cross-section Americans." It said all of the questioners were supporters of Eisenhower's second-term bid.

Eisenhower's Suez statement was based on developments tonight at the United Nations in New York. Foreign ministers of Britain, France and Egypt reported to a secret meeting of the U.N. Security Council that they had agreed on a set of six principles as a basis for further negotiations on the Suez problem. "Prayer Of Thanksgiving"

Eisenhower declared that this did not mean that "we are completely out of the woods." But he said he had talked to Secretary of State Dulles and "in his heart and mine, there is a prayer of thanksgiving."

The first question propounded by the audience of his admirers, who had been brought to Washington by the Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon organization, was: "Who is in charge of the nation?"

Eisenhower said he believed the people who can give best evidence are his associates.

"If I am not running the executive part of this administration then I am the man mostly fooled," he said.

Adlai Stevenson has been stressing the argument that Eisenhower has shown a lack of presidential leadership, and the President's remarks were obviously designed as a reply.

Nixon Worthy Partner
Eisenhower told one questioner, who asked, "What sort of a man is Vice President Nixon," that his running mate is a worthy partner (Continued on page 2, col. 3.)

President Plans More Speeches

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The White House today announced plans for two more campaign speeches by President Eisenhower—a major address in New York's Madison Square Garden the night of Oct. 25, and an airport talk at Denver Oct. 19.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said the Madison Square Garden talk will be carried nationwide on NBC television and radio networks at 9 p.m. EDT.

He said the rally will be sponsored by the Citizens for Eisenhower organization and the New York State and County Republican organizations.

A reporter noted that Oct. 24, the day preceding the Madison Square Garden address, has been designated as United Nations Day. The newsman asked whether there was any possibility of Eisenhower going to New York a day early to appear before the U.N. General Assembly.

Hagerty replied: "I can't answer that now. I just don't know."

In response to a question at a news conference yesterday, Eisenhower said he would be willing to go before the U.N. in an effort to find a solution to the Suez Canal crisis if it would result in what he called peace with justice.

Britain Halts Flight To Russia

Tanya Chwastov, 2½-year-old Philadelphia-born girl, is carried off the Soviet ship Molotov by her father, Alexis Chwastov, in London yesterday a half-hour before they were scheduled to sail for Russia. Chwastov, 58-year-old Russian, was attempting to spirit the girl to Russia but a writ was issued to hold her in England until her custody is decided. Tanya's mother, Mrs. Helena Dieczek, divorced and remarried and now living in Detroit, had employed British legal aid.

Firms Accused Of Price-Fixing In Vaccine Sale

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Rep. Holifield (D-Calif.) today accused five drug firms of "collusive practice, and price fixing" in the sale of 13 million dollars worth of polio vaccine to the government. A House investigation, Holifield said, already has produced "prima facie evidence that the antitrust laws have been violated." He recommended that the Justice Department and the Federal Trade Commission look into the situation.

Prices Called Fair
Officials of the U.S. Public Health Service, which has been buying the vaccine for a free immunization program being conducted by the states, contend the prices paid have been fair and reasonable.

Reid M. Hovey, purchasing officer for the health service, told the investigating subcommittee today that it's still "not too late to report to the Justice Department if we think prices are too high."

"But I don't think any harm's been done up to this point," he added.

Contracts Denied
Clarke Banta, general counsel for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, defended the manner in which the contracts were negotiated.

He told the congressmen that if the immunization program had been delayed there would have been charges that vaccine desperately demanded by the country was being held up. If the government speeds things up, he said, "We are accused of being dishonest."

His court appearance was a triumph for the British stand that the government could not stop the process of the courts. The Russians had said the charge she stole five cheap hats was a vile and trumped up "provocation" and had asked the British Foreign Office to have the case dropped. The 168-pound, 27-year-old athlete, who had been in hiding 44 days in the Soviet embassy, emerged unexpectedly this afternoon and stood trial at Marlborough Street Magistrate's Court. She pleaded innocent, saying she bought the hats.

President Eisenhower—In Washington; participates in a nationwide Radio-TV program—9 p.m. EST, CBS—marking the President's 66th birthday anniversary Sunday.

Riots Blamed On China Societies

HONG KONG, Saturday, Oct. 13 (AP)—Police today blamed this week's riots and violence on secret Chinese societies and their British colony's underground criminal organizations.

The police statement was issued as nearly 500 suspects and 90 known criminals were being fingerprinted.

The riots and factional fighting which broke out Wednesday during celebration of Nationalist China's national day ended with an official count of 44 dead and nearly 200 injured. But conflicting reports have indicated there may be a larger total of dead when the final count has been made. Privately, some police officers say the death toll could easily reach more than 100.

But stern-faced Magistrate Clyde Wilson found the case against her proved. Peering over his spectacles, he told her she could be released on payment of costs. A Soviet Embassy representative paid the $8.82 in her behalf and she slipped out through a side door, eluding curious bystanders.

Tonight Nina boarded the Soviet steamship Vyacheslav Molotov for her six-day voyage back to Russia. The young woman, a Moscow doctor's wife, is expected to compete in the Olympic games opening in Melbourne next month. Experts predict an easy victory for her in the woman's discus event. She has tossed the platter 185 feet 9½ inches.

U.S.-Born Tot Taken Off Red Ship By British

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—American-born Tanya Chwastov—a child caught in a custody battle between East and West—was taken off a Soviet ship tonight a half hour before she was scheduled to sail with her father to Russia.

The 2½-year-old girl was made a ward of the British High Court after a writ was issued to hold her here.

The British Foreign Office said it had notified the Russian Embassy of the action. She will remain here until her custody is decided.

Mother Gets Legal Aid

Tanya and her father, Alexis, rushed off the Vyacheslav Molotov as seamen were preparing the vessel for sea. Because the ship was in a British port the child was still in the jurisdiction of British courts.

Two immigration officials apparently served the writ on the father. The child's mother, Mrs. Helena Dieczek, divorced and remarried, had employed British legal aid to hold the child here.

The mother said in Detroit that Alexis had promised he would give the girl back to her before he returned to Russia. Both mother and father are displaced persons, but the mother has become an American citizen. Chwastov chose to return to the Soviet Union.

Father Acts Voluntarily

When Chwastov and Tanya stepped on the dock from the Molotov, the father was tense and smiling. He held his head low as he waited beside a British policeman who beckoned him into a car.

GOP "Truth Squad" Cancels Adlai "Visit"

LONG BEACH, Calif., Oct. 12 (AP)—The GOP "truth squad" today canceled its plans to drop in by helicopter on Adlai Stevenson's airport rally.

Airport managers said facilities are too small to accommodate both the Democratic and Republican functions at the same time today.

The Republican squad, headed by Rep. Donald Jackson, California, said it would set its helicopter down at Los Angeles International Airport, about 15 miles away, and refute Stevenson's remarks by long-distance.

Plane Search Futile; Hope Ebbs For 59

Greatest Air Hunt In History Sparked By Distress Signal

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Hope ebbed tonight for finding a U.S. transport plane missing for two days with 59 men aboard, but 100 planes from three continents still criss crossed the Atlantic in continuing search.

The number of planes in the air made the search one of the greatest in aviation history and was sparked by an Air Force report that a long SOS signal had been picked up early today.

Vanished Wednesday

The plane—a C118 Liftmaster—vanished Wednesday with 50 Air Force men and 9 Naval crewmen aboard while on a flight from Lakenheath, England, to the United States. The Air Force men, from the Air Force Base at Lincoln, Neb., had been on duty in Britain.

After the last message from the Liftmaster Wednesday night off the Azores, there was silence until 2:15 a.m. GMT today when the Air Force said, a Pan American world airways passenger plane picked up a distress signal believed to have come from a radio on a survival raft, of which the plane carried four.

Radar Used In Search

Six-engine Stratofort bombers, planes from Europe, North Africa and America—and from aircraft carriers of a U.S. Naval task force—skipped the ocean with radar for a trace of the missing men. But the melancholy messages came back. "No luck. Nothing sighted."

U.S. Air Force headquarters reported: "No clues to the whereabouts of the missing aircraft have been received since the SOS message intercepted by a Pan American transport today. The source of the message was placed at about 150 miles north of the Azores. However, the search is being pressed with the utmost vigor."

The weather forecast tonight turned from good to "fair." Visibility went down to 4 to 8 miles with scattered showers and broken clouds in store.

Wilson Assails Talk Of Ending Draft, H-Tests

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said today campaign talk of ending the draft and halting H-bomb tests "are irresponsible approaches to some very practical and realistic matters."

The secretary also indicated at a news conference that defense spending next year will increase by 1½ to 2 billion dollars and that uniformed manpower will be cut anywhere from 100,000 to 168,000.

It was Wilson's first meeting with newsmen since he underwent surgery 2½ weeks ago.

Wilson did not refer directly to Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, who has suggested the time may be approaching when the draft can be ended.

Wilson said the subject of atomic weapons control, and the ending of nuclear tests, has been under discussion at the United Nations and in many high level circles and that "There is nothing on a unilateral basis that we can safely do that will affect this business."

As to the draft, Wilson said he is "personally disturbed by the fact that raising the question in this way tends to deceive the American people and it confuses our Allies as well."

The secretary said that as far as he could tell it would be "impossible" to keep up more than half of the present uniform strength without a draft.

Austin In Hospital

BURLINGTON, Vt., Oct. 12 (AP)—Warren R. Austin, former U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, was in Mary Fletcher Hospital today after suffering what doctors termed a "minor cerebral spasm" early today.

A 1 p.m. hospital bulletin said he was sleeping and in no immediate danger. It said also that the 79-year old patient had lost some of the gains that were noted immediately after his admission.

Plans For New Tanker Fleet Ordered By Ike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower today ordered plans drafted for possible construction of a new oil tanker fleet in event of emergency arising out of the Suez Canal crisis.

Eisenhower's decision was announced at the White House by the defense mobilization chief, Arthur S. Flemming.

Flemming said in response to a question that no immediate emergency or new development in the Suez picture prompted the move.

Long-Range Program

Flemming described it as a long-range program, and added: "We are trying to get ourselves in the position where we are not as dependent on the Suez Canal as we are now."

He emphasized that the tanker construction plans will be drafted for study by government agencies. A decision will be made later on whether to build the tankers, he said.

Suez Not Mentioned By Ike

Nowhere in his memorandum to Flemming did Eisenhower specifically mention the Suez situation.

But both Flemming and White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said, in response to questions, that the move by the President is keyed to the crisis growing out of Egypt's seizure of the waterway.

Israel And Jordan Troops In New Clash

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector, Oct. 12 (AP)—Israel and Jordan troops exchanged fire for 15 minutes across the divided city of Jerusalem today.

The firing was stopped by U.N. truce observers.

A Jordanian military source said Jordan claimed the Israelis started the firing, and lodged a complaint with the U.N.-sponsored Mixed Armistice Commission.

The firing was in the northern and southern parts of the divided city. Both sides used rifles and small automatic weapons.

Tallamy's appointment to the

Demo Nominee Declares Nixon 'New GOP Head'

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 12 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said tonight that "a paralysis of will has overtaken our national leadership" with Vice President Nixon as "the new head of the Republican party."

While the times call for an "effective leader," President Eisenhower is "either unwilling or unable" to lead his party, and national policy "has become stalled on dead center," said the Democratic presidential nominee.

In an address prepared for delivery at a Democratic rally, Stevenson sought to push his proposal to halt H-bomb tests to the forefront of campaign issues.

No "Last Word"

"Most Americans, I know, are concerned, and deeply concerned, about mankind's need to tame the hydrogen bomb," he said. "Yet only yesterday, the President said he had uttered his 'last word' on this subject."

"I say there is no 'last word' on this fateful subject until mankind is freed of the menace of incineration. And I shall have something more to say about the obligations of leadership to the human race as well as the nation next Monday night."

Stevenson is to make a nationwide radio-TV address Monday night either from Chicago or from his farm home at Libertyville, Ill.

The Democratic candidate said that Eisenhower's abdication—or failure—of political leadership "means that 'the Republican Old Guard rides high today.'"

Election "To Close Books"

"In short, the people are coming to realize more and more that the Republican candidate and his party leadership are indistinguishable, that this is the last chance to audit the accounts, that this election will close the books, that to vote for the Republican candidate is to vote for Humphrey, for Wilson, for Benson, for Dulles—and for the new head of the Republican party—Mr. Nixon," he said.

Stevenson's speech here was designed to climax a hard drive for California's 32 electoral votes.

Paratroop Vet Saves Buddies

FT. BRAGG, N.C., Oct. 12 (AP)—A strong-armed paratroop veteran of 15 years saved two buddies from possible death during a mass jump at Ft. Benning, Ga., the Army said today.

But M-Sgt. Louis Berthiaume of New Orleans shrugged off his feat of clutching two men whose parachutes became entangled in his with the comment: "jumping is my business. I don't want to be thought of as a hero. I only did what I thought was best to help them. I knew we would be safe."

Saved from death or injury by Berthiaume's action 800 feet above the drop zone were Pfc. Frank L. Ruminer of Pittsburgh and Sp.3C. William J. Meek of Chillicothe, Ohio.

All three were back on duty with the 325th Airborne Infantry regiment here today. Meek was on the job after receiving two sprained ankles, the only injury incurred by the three.

Rep. Priest Dies

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 12 (AP)—Veteran Democratic Rep. J. Percy Priest of Tennessee's 5th District died here today while apparently recovering from a recent operation for stomach ulcer.

Principal feature of the program calls for a 41,000-mile network of interstate superhighways, linking all major cities in the country. The government is paying 90 per cent of the cost, the states the rest.

West, Egypt Agree On Set Of Principles

Basis For Further Bargaining; Pineau, Dulles Encouraged

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)—The foreign ministers of Britain, France and Egypt reported to a secret meeting of the U. N. Security Council tonight that they had agreed on a set of six principles as a basis for further negotiations on the Suez problem.

The agreement was the result of six private meetings of British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi with U.N. Secretary General, Dag Hammarskjold.

The principles dealt with freedom of access, the sovereignty of Egypt, the right to fare tolls, arbitration of disputes, funds for improvement and development, and insulation of the vital waterway from the national politics of the individual countries.

Pineau Hails Accord

Pineau told newsmen after the Council meeting:

"Great progress has been achieved. We have agreed on the six principles which should be the basis of the settlement of the problem."

The British, French and Egyptian foreign ministers will meet with Hammarskjold tomorrow to complete action on a document for council action on the negotiating plans.

The council will hold a public session at 2 p.m. EST tomorrow.

Secretary of State Dulles was reported highly pleased that the suggestion for insulation of the waterway from national politics was included in the principles. He had plugged for this idea throughout the Suez talks here and in London.

Dulles was reported to have told the Council he welcomed the spirit shown in agreement on the principles and said it appears to be solid ground for progress.

Meanwhile, Britain, France and Egypt were reported in diplomatic circles to be planning more Suez talks in the United Nations in late October. Persons familiar with the course of the secret sessions in Hammarskjold's office said there was "real promise" of an eventual settlement.

Probable Timetable

These sources said the probable timetable would be for Pineau to return to Paris Sunday for debates of the National Assembly beginning Tuesday and for Lloyd to go home early next week.

When the Assembly debates end in several days, it was said, the ministers likely will return to New York for continued huddles with Hammarskjold.

It was reported Fawzi and the Western ministers have gone over their basic positions several times and that Hammarskjold has taken a leading hand in pointing to several possible solutions.

While no details of the talks were divulged, persons familiar with the course of events appeared to be distinctly encouraged.

Brain Necrosis Killed Recruit

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C., Oct. 12 (AP)—Brain necrosis—dead tissue—killed a marine recruit here, doctors said today, but his mother insisted that her son had rarely been sick.

Pvt. Thomas L. Dillard Jr., 18-year-old Miami, Fla., negro, collapsed yesterday while taking exercises. He died a half-hour later in the Marine dispensary.

Marine authorities first said a heart condition was to blame, but doctors said today an autopsy revealed necrosis of vital brain centers.

Microscopic study of the tissues will be made to determine the cause of the necrosis, they said.

Dillard, nearly through boot training, suffered a mild virus pneumonia Sept. 20. He recovered rapidly and returned to full duty Oct. 3, the Marine depot said.

Mrs. Katie Dillard, the boy's mother, said at Miami that she had a letter Saturday saying her son had been hospitalized with pneumonia.

Labor Dept. Probes Government Policy On Coal Purchasing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (P)—The Labor Department is launching an investigation of government coal-buying policies to see whether small lot purchases are an attempt to get around union-scale wage requirements.

The inquiry was ordered by Secretary of Labor Mitchell based on complaints from the United Mine Workers union, aimed principally at the coal-buying policies of the Tennessee Valley Authority. The TVA buys about 90 million dollars worth of coal annually.

The UMW several years ago began complaining that TVA was buying non-union coal almost exclusively in following a policy to buy fuel for power plants at the cheapest cost.

Then Mitchell last year established the first minimum wage under the Walsh-Healey Act for the coal industry. This requires that all coal bought by the government be produced at a $2.25 per hour wage rate for miners.

This matched the UMW wage rate at that time. The union rate has since been increased about 50 cents an hour, but the Walsh-Healey rate has remained at the $2.25 level because there has been no request for Mitchell to boost it.

Now the UMW has protested that TVA and other government coal purchasers are buying coal in less than $10,000 lots, such purchases being exempt from the Walsh-Healey wage requirement. Mitchell told the UMW convention earlier this week in Cincinnati that while his $2.25 per hour pay order has resulted in increased government purchase of union-produced coal, about 25 per cent of TVA's coal still is being bought in less than $10,000 lots exempt from the wage requirement.

Baltimore Dope, Lottery Rings Broken; 17 Held

BALTIMORE, Oct. 12 (P)—The Police Rackets Division arrested 13 persons today in one of the biggest narcotics raids in the city's history, then smashed a $10,000-a-day lottery operation, arresting four persons including two children.

Officers of the narcotics squad charged 13 persons with narcotics law violations and said 10 others had been arrested in dope raids within the last 72 hours.

Ten of those arrested today were charged with peddling heroin, two with possession of marihuana and one with sale of marihuana. Total bail of $77,000 was set for the 13 at a Police Court hearing.

Police said the record-breaking crackdown on the dope traffic in Baltimore resulted from an investigation of one house, described as he headquarters of a large scale narcotics operation.

Lt. Joseph Carroll, head of the Narcotics Squad, said pure morphine was diluted at the location and then found its way into the hands of peddlers and eventually to addicts.

The arrests started Wednesday, Carroll said, and included both peddlers and users.

In a separate raid, Rackets Division officers broke down the door of a two-story row house to close what they called one of the largest lottery operations in Baltimore's history.

Inspector Clarence O. Forrester called in Narcotics Squad officers after finding a large amount of marihuana in the room of a 30-year-old musician, one of the four occupants of the house.

Also held were a 52-year-old woman, a 15-year-old boy and a 14-year-old girl.

Eisenhower

in the Republican plans "to better America."

Nixon is, Eisenhower noted, a young man. But he is a "man who studies, informs himself," the President went on. He said that Nixon in the last four years has been "present at every important conference held in government."

Edward Kubiske, Detroit auto worker, said some fellows at his shop needed enlightenment about the administration's labor program.

Eisenhower recalled the long hours he put in as a youth and said "when I see what unions have done for the working men as compared with that record there is no doubt in my mind" that they have benefited workers.

The President recalled that he had recommended changes in the Taft-Hartley labor law to remedy what he called "certain defects" and said these had been blocked in Congress.

"But we have pushed ahead with many things," he said.

The President said that if the laboring man—or anybody in the country—will look at the record, he will find nothing in it to show his administration is antilabor.

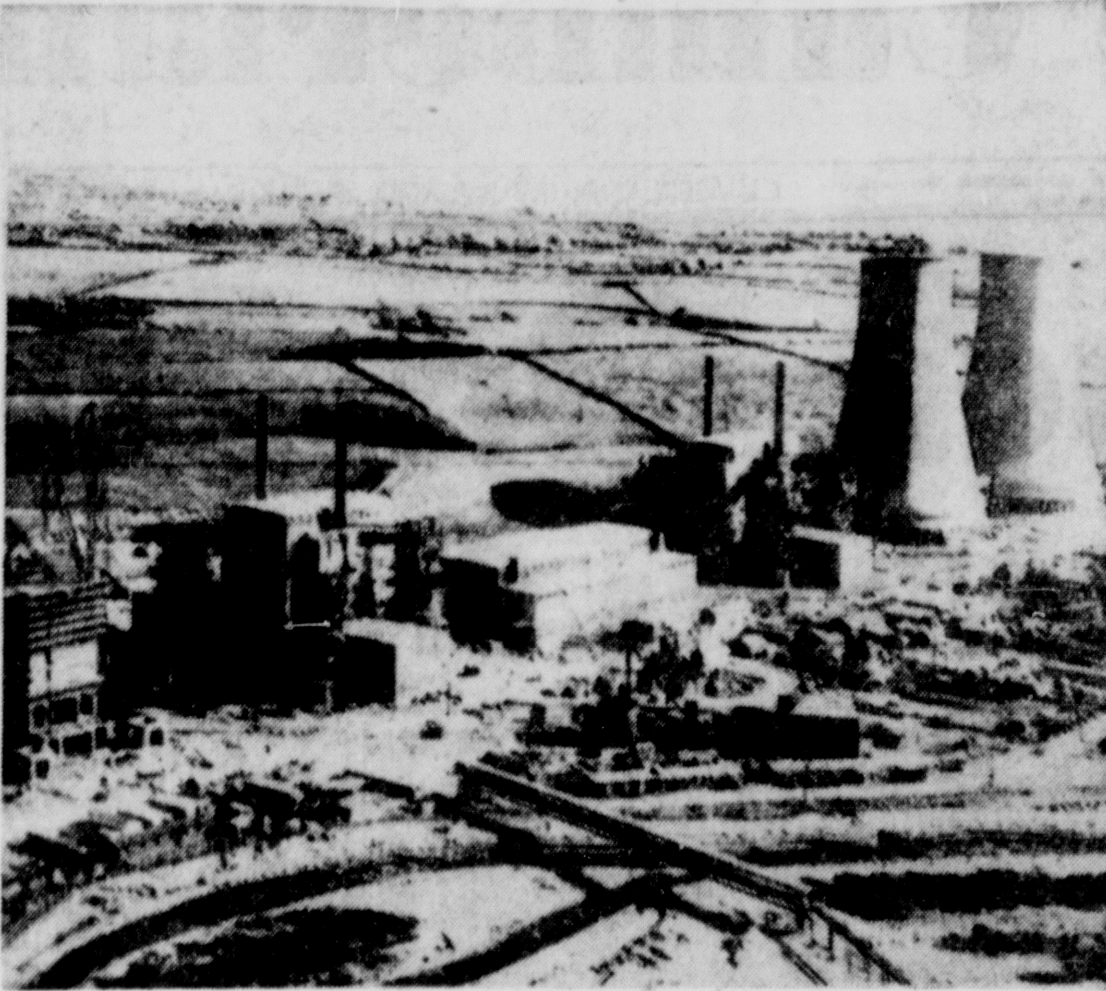

"On the contrary," he said, it will show the administration is the working man's "good friend."

A woman said she was asking as a mother about the different stands taken by Eisenhower and Stevenson, his Democratic opponent, on the draft.

Eisenhower said there were "a number of reasons" for his belief the draft must be continued. He said experience has shown that to maintain an armed strength of 1½ million men the draft is necessary because "you can't get volunteers" without it. He said the draft was a fair way of distributing the manpower requirements.

Tombstone Photo Assures Benefits

SHENANDOAH, Va., Oct. 12 (P)—It took a photograph of a tombstone, but Mrs. Virgie L. Stanley of Hagerstown, Md., is assured now of getting her Social Security benefits.

Mrs. Stanley, a former resident of this little Northern Virginia town, gave her birth date as March 7, 1887, when she first applied for benefits at Hagerstown. An insurance policy issued in 1950 and the Social Security records, however, indicated she was born in 1890.

Mrs. Stanley was not able to locate any records to substantiate her claim until she remembered her birthdate was on the family tombstone here.

She was told a photograph of the marker would be accepted as evidence.

Chevrolet Prices Upped $50 To $166

DETROIT, Oct. 12 (P)—Chevrolet will raise its factory list prices for 1957 models from $50 to $166 over its 1956 line.

In announcing this today the company said it would continue to offer the lowest priced passenger cars in its field.

E. N. Cole, Chevrolet general manager, attributed the higher prices to increasing costs.

Chevrolet's smallest increase was on its Bel Air 4-door station wagon. It will list at $2,325 for a six cylinder model, up $50.

The biggest increase will be for the Bel Air 4-door sedan, up from $1,890 to $2,056 for the six cylinder model.

The suggested list prices do not include distribution and delivery charges, preparation and conditioning charges, federal excise taxes, state or local taxes. All of these would add several hundred dollars to the delivered price.

Coal Fumes Send Three To Hospital

WINCHESTER, Va., Oct. 12 (P)—Fumes leaking from a stoker-fed coal furnace escaped into a two-family residence here early today, sending three persons to a hospital.

Indications were the cries of an infant saved six persons in the dwelling from the fumes.

Reported in good condition at a local hospital were Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Atkinson, residents of the second floor, and Mrs. Mary V. Carper, who lived on the first floor.

Lawyers Urged To Back Teaching Of Communism In Public Schools

BALTIMORE, Oct. 12 (P)—Encouraged by President Eisenhower, an effort was renewed today to have American lawyers back teaching of Communism in public schools.

Robert V. Bolger, chairman of the Citizenship Committee, announced it will seek for the second time authorization from the American Bar Association to confer with leaders of education.

"We want to explore the possibilities and the manner of teaching the theory and practice of the governments of the United States and of the several states in contrast with the theory and practice of all totalitarian ideologies including Communism," he told the Mid-Atlantic region of the association.

The committee proposal was

Marine Corporal Guilty Of Assault

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C., Oct. 12 (P)—A special court-martial today convicted marine Cpl. Richard J. Bille of simple assault against a recruit who claimed he was slugged in the stomach for failing to say "sir."

Bille, of Erie, Pa., was sentenced to two months imprisonment at hard labor, forfeiture of $65 of his pay for two months, and reduced to the rank of private, first class. As a corporal he draws $117 a month base pay.

He was found innocent of a charge of maltreatment of a person subject to his orders.

The court-martial deliberated 50 minutes after hearing testimony on the charges brought by Pvt. Donald Hamisfar of Norfolk, Ohio.

Utah's Governor May Run After All

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 12 (P)—Gov. J. Bracken Lee said today he meant to go on the air last night to say he would not seek a third term as an independent candidate.

Instead, he canceled the broadcast and said he wanted to take another 48 hours to reconsider.

Why? Lee wasn't saying—except in general terms.

"I had made up my mind to pull out," he told The Associated Press, "but some things have come up causing me to reconsider that decision—things that were very disturbing to me—things on a political, not a personal level."

The governor wouldn't elaborate, except to add that if he does decide to run "I'll be mentioning these things in my campaign."

Lee lost to George D. Clyde last month in Utah's Republican gubernatorial primary. But last week a group calling itself "citizens for Lee" submitted petitions which, under a little-known Utah law, could put Lee's name on the ballot as an independent. He has until Sunday to accept or reject.

He's now scheduled to go on radio and television tomorrow night to announce his decision.

Mansfield Asks Wilson Replies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (P)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) today asked a "clear cut" answer from Secretary of Defense Wilson as to what the administration plans regarding the size and strength of the armed forces.

In a letter to the Pentagon head, Mansfield protested that questions he and other Democrats have asked about possible cut-backs in the fighting forces "have not been answered." Mansfield made the letter public.

The senator asked Wilson for direct answers to these questions: "1. Is there such a proposal as the so-called 'Radford Plan' to reduce the armed forces of the United States by 800,000 men in the immediate or near future? (Adm. Arthur W. Radford is chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.)

"2. In the event there is such a proposal under consideration, what will its effect be on our divisions overseas, especially in the Far East and in Germany?"

"3. Are there at the present time discussions in progress or contemplated which will consider the reduction of the Air Force from 137 air wings, the goal now in sight, to 117 wings—or a cut of 20 wings?"

Nuclear Fallout Hazard Finding Is Encouraging

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (P)—A new and encouraging finding about the hazard of radioactive strontium from atomic and hydrogen bomb fall-out was reported today by a member of the Atomic Energy Commission.

At the same time Dr. Willard F. Libby made it clear for the first time that whatever the United States has developed in the line of H-bombs with "reduced fall-out," it involves a built-in principle—conceivably a new and smaller A-bomb "trigger." The trigger is at least one of the sources of radioactivity in an H-bomb.

Hitherto, one line of speculation has been that instead of any internal change in the bomb itself, detonation at high altitude was the only trick used by the commission to reduce the fall-out of radioactive particles.

Concerning radioactive strontium—most dangerous of all fall-out materials and one that can cause bone cancer if present in the body in sufficient quantities—Libby said this:

New evidence suggests that strontium may not get into the body from the soil in anything like as high a proportion as previously believed.

Libby told about these things in an address prepared for a special meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, the largest general science organization in the world.

With reference to the achievement of reduced fall-out in a "megaton-range" weapon—that is, presumably a weapon of the H-bomb category—Libby said only that in the recent tests at the Pacific proving grounds, the United States has been "successful" in producing "a megaton-range weapon with an inherently smaller amount of fall-out for a given energy release."

Family Life Play To Be Presented Tuesday In Frostburg Community Programs Series

Cultural Group Names Officers

FROSTBURG — All arrangements have been completed by the officers and committees of Frostburg Community Programs, Inc., for the presentation Tuesday of "Mr. and Mrs." This will be the fifth program to be sponsored by the group this season and will be given by the Conservatory Players, in Compton Hall, Frostburg State Teachers College. Curtain time is at 8:15 p. m., according to Miss Dorothy Stone White, program chairman of the organization.

This play, according to a local group who witnessed it at the Jennerstown Country Playhouse, co-stars Helen F. Evans and Harry Dorman, and is a colorful recounting of the "trials and joys of married life." Mr. and Mrs. draws upon material all the way from Shakespeare to the old family vaudeville acts, and is a story of family life as it has changed through the ages.

The first program to be sponsored by Frostburg Community programs this season was the United States Army Field Band. This organization was such an outstanding hit that it is planned to have them play a return engagement in the early summer.

The second program presented was a play entitled "King of Hearts", and enacted by local talent. This was also well received, and it was necessary to hold it over for a second performance in order to accommodate the people who had purchased tickets.

The Frostburg Arion Band gave

Keyser Lions To Observe Anniversary

KEYSER — The Keyser Lions Club will observe its twentieth anniversary with a "Charter Night" dinner and dance at the Shrine Club on Route 50 Thursday evening, October 18, it was announced by Raymond L. Murray, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Officers of other service clubs have been invited, as well as guests of the regular Lion members, to attend this affair, Murray said.

"With a long record of worthwhile community projects and a steady sight conservation program throughout its 20 years of activity, it is only fitting that the honored guests will be the founders of the club," he added.

Lion president Roy Davidson has announced that Charles H. Riemann, Bridgeport, district governor, 29V, will represent Lions International at the meeting. Music for the dance will be provided by Tommy Smith's orchestra.

Toastmaster Club Elects

KEYSER — E. M. Welshonce has been elected educational vice president; Frank Keedy, administrative vice president and Vincent R. Panico, sergeant-at-arms, of the Keyser Toastmasters Club.

Panico spoke on the background of the segregation problem in this country. He pointed out that Lincoln's death, 91 years ago, set the stage for the vindictive peace imposed upon the South after the Civil War. The exploitation of the defeated people of the South, and the scramble of conscienceless men to garner profit from chaos led to frustration, bitterness and a feeling of need for retaliation on the part of the Southerners. These are some of the roots of the problem to which America must find an answer without bitterness and with moderation, Panico said.

William Vuicish spoke on baseball and one of its most famous exponents, Mickey Mantle, named for the famous Detroit catcher, Mickey Cochrane.

The club has submitted its application for a charter to the Toastmasters International in Santa Ana, Calif., and it expects soon to begin receiving its training materials for each member. Membership in the club is necessarily limited, but there are still a few vacancies. Meetings are every Tuesday at noon at the Towne House.

B&O Tower Is Razed

PIEDMONT — The Baltimore and Ohio tower located just east of Child's Avenue for over 50 years has been torn down. It has not been used since April when automatic switch control was installed.

The building was razed by Ellis Wilt and his helper and the lumber will be used to construct a garage in Bloomington.

The idea of the Statue of Liberty was originated with Edouard de Laboulaye, French historian. In 1865, he suggested it as a memorial to the U. S. in recognition of the 100th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence.

Shears Buy Men's Shop At Keyser

KEYSER — Kaplon's Men's Shop, one of Keyser's oldest and best known businesses, has been purchased by Jacob Shear and his sister, Miss Ada Shear, it was announced by Henry Groudan, manager for several years and one of the administrators of the estate of the late Hyman Kaplon, founder of the store.

The sale of the Main Street store is effective immediately. The purchase price was not divulged.

The Shears said there would be no changes in personnel in the men's clothing store, which would indicate that Harry West, who has managed the store during Groudan's frequent absences, would continue as manager.

The late Hyman Kaplon first founded a combination men's and women's clothing store in Keyser 58 years ago. In April of 1923 the two stores were separated and the late Moses Kaplon became manager of the men's store.

Groudan said he planned to leave soon to join his wife in Miami, Fla., where she has been living for several years because of her health. He said, however, he would return to Keyser off and on because of his extensive business interests and property holdings here.

Shear and his sister are associated in the operation of women's clothing stores in Keyser and Romney, and Shear also manages Jay's Shoe Store here.

Moorefield Being Surveyed For Postal Delivery Service

MOOREFIELD — Postmaster William J. Teets announces a survey is being made in Moorefield by postal representatives to decide the feasibility of establishing city delivery service in the town.

City delivery service provides for the delivery of mail, both letter and parcel post, to those patrons within an area designated for service. Patrons receiving mail by carrier would have one delivery a day, Monday through Saturday but none on Sunday or holidays.

The requirements for delivery service are that a post office have annual receipts of at least $10,000 and a population of approximately 2500 living within territory having good continuous sidewalks, surfaced streets, house numbers, street signs, and the territory must be 50 per cent improved with houses.

The patrons must have mail receptacles or mail slots. Business houses are not required to have receptacles or slots if they are open and someone on hand to receive mail. Business houses may receive door delivery but pick up parcels at the post office on written request. All mail must be addressed by residence number and name of street.

Mail outgoing may be picked up by the carrier, if stamped and is handed to the carrier at the time of delivery. The rate for local mail will be increased from 2c to 3c if carrier service is established.

Some patrons would receive morning delivery and others afternoon delivery. There is no information yet as

A BOY'S PRAYER

Dear God . . . there's so much I'd like to say to You. It's that way lots of times. I want to talk to You, and then somehow I get stuck for words.

I guess I do some stupid things, sometimes . . . like that fight with Butch Hendley yesterday. He said something I didn't like and then I said something, and that was it. I guess I won, but afterwards I was kind of ashamed. I told Dad about it last night and he went for a walk with me and we looked up at the sky and the stars. Everything looked so big, all of a sudden, that it scared me. It seemed too big to understand.

Then Dad told me that there are lots of things like the sky and the stars, too big for people to ever understand. And he said that that's where Faith comes in, and that it is good to have the Church to put our trust in.

I got to thinking about that, and I told Dad that I'd kind of like to ask Butch to come to Church with us next Sunday morning, but that I was afraid he wouldn't come. Dad grinned at me and said, "Why not ask him and see?"

Dear God . . . I did ask Butch, and he's coming. Butch hasn't been to Church regularly like I have, so maybe when it comes to praying he'll get stuck for words even worse than I do. But You'll listen to him anyway, won't You? Because he needs You very much . . . just like I do . . . just like all of us do.

Thank You, God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Careless Family' Blamed For Most Fires In Homes

Hout Will Attend FFA Convention

William Hout, a junior at Flintstone High School, will attend the National Future Farmers of America Convention in Kansas City next week, according to his vocational agriculture teacher, Kenneth Malone.

Hout, who is reporter of the Flintstone FFA chapter, will leave Cumberland at 7:45 p. m. Sunday aboard the B&O Columbian. He will arrive in Kansas City Monday afternoon. He will return to Cumberland at 5:10 a. m. October 20 aboard the same train. Other Maryland FFA members will travel to Kansas City on the same train. They will board it in Baltimore, Washington, Silver Spring and Martinsburg, W. Va.

Commissioners Award Printing Contract

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has accepted the low bid of the Monarch Printing Company to print 150 copies of the county treasurer's report for the fiscal year which ended June 30.

The successful bidder offered to do the work for $199.

At the board's meeting, held Thursday because of yesterday's Columbus Day holiday, the commissioners also accepted the report of James D. Bishop, county treasurer, for the first three months of the current fiscal year, which ended September 30.

Three Men, One WAC Enlist In Army Here

Sgt. Virgil F. Smith, local Army recruiter, reported the enlistment of three men and one woman during the past several days. He said six others have enlisted but will not leave for training until late next week.

Franklin A. Stott, Frostburg, enlisted for three years in the Regular Army and has been assigned to the Corps of Engineers. Ernest H. Stewart Jr., 12 Crescent Place, also enlisted for three years and was assigned to the Armored Forces. Robert W. Parker, 27 South Centre Street, enlisted for three years unassigned.

All three men have gone to Fort Jackson, S. C., to begin basic training. Parker's father is an Army career man with the rank of sergeant first class, and is stationed at Fort Eustis, Va.

Martha Jane Zeis, of Green Spring, W. Va., enlisted for two years in the WAC and is taking her basic training at Fort McClellan, Ala. She is a graduate of Romney High School, class of 1955.

Are you a member of the Careless Family—a person responsible for most home fires?

With the windup of Fire Prevention Week local and area firemen, in cooperation with insurance agents, are reminding the public of a few such members of that family.

There is Dozing Dave who can doze off anywhere, any time, and often does. Never thinks to task himself before he lights up. "Am I so sleepy I might doze before I finish this smoke?"

Dave has another failing: he is apt to put a lighted cigarette down and forget it, or toss a match into a wastepaper basket without making sure it's out. Tell him to use an ashtray.

Go for instance Tidy Tillie can't bear the sight of full ashtrays—empties them constantly. Trouble is, she does not make sure all matches and butts are dead out before dumping them into a trash can full of combustible rubbish.

Glow-worm Bertie carries her own flame when poking into dark closets. If she happens to be smoking at the time, the cigarette goes along, too. Tell her to use a flashlight, and leave that smoke until later, or she'll have those clothes ablaze in no time.

Bert and Bessie are known as the blow-uppers. Bert thinks nothing of looking for a gas leak with a lighted match or candle. If he finds a gas leak, just try to find him.

And Bessie—well, she thinks gasoline can do a good job of cleaning a spot on her party dress. But it takes only a tiny spark to make gasoline fumes explode. The party may be held without her.

And about this time of the year, Landscaper Louie takes great pride in keeping the grounds looking nice — burns every stray leaf at once.

"Don't need a leaf burner for these few," he decided, "but since it's kind of windy, I'll burn them in the shelter of the building."

That building won't provide much shelter when it's burned to the ground — which may be quite soon.

Local CWA workers, however, honored picket lines set up by operators during the strike, according to Michael Lirdner, vice president of Western Maryland Local 2105.

He said the lines set up at the central office and at the company garage were observed by all local members of the Communications Workers of America, and that they were joined by one CWA member from Hagerstown who had been assigned here.

Garrett Suit Removed Here

A $25,000 damage suit brought by Harry E. Ark of Oakland against Richard Whittaker, Terra Alta, W. Va., has been removed from Garrett County Circuit Court to Allegany County for trial here.

Ark, through Attorneys Lewis R. Jones and Ernest Ray Jones, sued Whittaker for $25,000 for injuries allegedly sustained when he was struck by Whittaker's car while standing close to the edge of State Route 39 about one-half mile west of Crellin about 10 p. m. January 21, 1955.

The Oakland man contended his injuries included fractures of the skull and nose, compound fracture of the right leg and injury to his chest.

Stephen R. Pagenhardt, Whittaker's attorney, filed a suggestion for removal with Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley, who signed the order October 6 removing the case to Allegany County.

Rough Grading Begins At Site Of Sewage Unit

Rough grading of the 10-acre site of Cumberland's sewage treatment plant got under way last week, according to Mayor Roy W. Eves.

Crews of the Moyer Brothers Company poured a section of the grit and comminutor chamber and began installing chlorinators in the chlorine room of the Main Sewage Pumping Station.

Grit collecting mechanism was also being placed in the grit and comminutor chamber.

Final tasks, such as glazing of windows, cleaning brickwork and installing electrical and heating equipment was under way at the pumping station.

Another crew was laying the 30-inch sewer which runs from the pumping station to the north levee.

Installation of drainage tile and large gravel in the sludge drying beds was completed last week, Mayor Eves said.

Suez Consortium Not Likely Now

There has been talk in American shipping circles of trying to solve Suez Canal problems by methods similar to those used in Iran after the nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. There a consortium of American, British, and Dutch oil men arranged with the government to put up funds and operate the oil company, while leaving ownership in the hands of Iran.

If Egypt would consent to a similar arrangement, a consortium of shipping and oil companies might put up perhaps $1.5 billion, immediately pay off the old Suez Canal Company, and run the canal for Egypt, the new owner.

Is this possible, though? Comparison with the precedent in Iran suggests that it isn't—not right now, anyway.

In Iran nothing of the sort could have been accomplished until Premier Mossadegh was deposed, Communist influence on the government was liquidated, and the authority of the Shah was fully restored. In Egypt it is President Nasser who followed Mossadegh's example, nationalized the canal, and admitted Communist influence. There is little indication that Nasser would be more realistic or reasonable on this issue than Mossadegh was. And no prospect of his early overthrow is visible.

Mossadegh overreached himself when he tried to depose the Shah of Iran, a liberal Middle Eastern ruler well liked by his people. There is no corresponding figure in Egypt. Nasser's junta deposed fat, fun-loving, corrupt King Farouk long since, and nobody wants Farouk back. There is no sign that Nasser is unpopular in Egypt or that effective opposition to him exists. Egypt is the leading nation of the Arab League, and Nasser has strong moral support from that grouping and from the other Bandung powers.

Even if Nasser would consent to the suggested consortium, on principle, would he be willing to meet its terms? Business men aren't going to invest that kind of money without effective safeguards to keep them from being double-crossed by a second nationalization. In Iran, the Shah himself is a considerable safeguard; in Egypt, Nasser obviously wouldn't be.

It is unlikely, in any case, that Britain will view the idea with any enthusiasm. The Iran settlement caused a certain amount of ill feeling in Iran because American oil men seemed to be muscling in on a British preserve. Russia, of course, went out of her way to play up this British-American "conflict." Another such settlement would put a further strain on Anglo-American relations.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Hog Wild

The 1956 campaign is going hog wild. The Democrats are bothered by a political trick that Eisenhower used in 1952. Unexpectedly and in response to the obvious concern of millions of Americans at the futile conduct of the Korean War—a war that was being fought to be lost—he announced that even before he was inaugurated as President, he would go to Korea. It was a beau geste and really without earth-shaking significance because until Eisenhower actually became President, it could not matter whether he went to Korea or not.

However, Eisenhower was elected and the Democrats have, for some unstastical reason, come to believe that this one statement was what elected him. They have been waiting for another such tour de force, as such things are called. Adlai Stevenson has hurled three boomerangs at Eisenhower, two of them undoubtedly on the assumption that if Stevenson did not say them first, Eisenhower would. The two were:

- 1. Drop the draft;
- 2. Stop testing bombs.

The third was a 100 per cent error, namely, that Dr. Milton Eisenhower's South American report strengthened Peron, when his research staff should have told Stevenson that whatever aid Peron got from the United States, about $100,000, 000 came to him during the Truman administration.

As to his suggestion about dropping the draft and stopping the testing of bombs, it can only be ascribed as an unrealistic, even silly, proposal. And such a proposal would have been just as unrealistic and just as silly if suggested by President Eisenhower. The world situation is not ready for either of them. As a matter of fact, Europe was close to war over the Suez Canal crisis at the time that Stevenson thought we could drop the draft and stop testing bombs.

Why do we need to test bombs? There are at least two reasons:

- 1. Without tests, nobody can possibly say what a bomb can do. Each test is a frightful danger to the entire human race because of the fall-out of radioactive strontium, and sooner or later, the Russians will recognize that they must come to some agreement for universal inspection and control so that the bomb can be eliminated. It is impossible for one country to stop testing, which means developing fiercer bombs, while another country continues. Only Soviet Russia has stood in the way of the total removal of the bomb as an instrument of war.
- 2. Testing is a form of advertising. Atomic intelligence has been developed to a point where it is possible not only to spot the exact place where the bomb was tested, but the nature of the bomb, the material used and the ferocity of the explosion. Therefore, each test tells the other nation that the odds are 1000 to 1, or 10 to 1. If those odds ever become 1 to 1, we shall be in very great peril, indeed.

At the present time, Khrushchev is having the kind of internal trouble that often has caused a politician to bring on a war to make his own situation more secure. But Khrushchev knows that even if he acted first, the retaliation would be so overwhelming that nothing would be left for him.

Surely, Adlai Stevenson has no desire for this country to risk so much that it is destroyed by its own weaknesses. Campaign oratory may be amusing but it needs to be serious, too.

Reds Score Propaganda Victory In "Cold War"

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The Communists have achieved one of the most important of their propaganda victories in the "cold war"—they can gloat over the fact that proposals for a prohibition of superbomb tests now are being debated in the presidential campaign in the United States and are attracting worldwide attention.

For years—in fact, ever since the Russians themselves tested their first A-bomb in 1949—an insidious campaign, mostly through "left wing" circles, has been carried on in the forums of world opinion in an attempt to bring about an ending of the tests.

The Daily Worker—the Communist organ in New York—and other Communist party newspapers abroad have for several years based on the issue of A-bomb tests. Now that Adlai Stevenson has given prominence in his own speeches to the idea of banning H-bomb tests, the Communist press is playing up everything that is said on the subject and is commending the Democratic presidential nominee for the position he is taking.

Military Strategy

What is back of the steady effort of the Moscow regime to focus attention on H-bomb tests, and what is behind the constant emphasis on the supposed willingness of the Soviets to keep any agreement banning the use of superbombs?

The answer lies in the field of military strategy. When the United States dropped the atom bomb on Japan, Soviet Russia didn't have the weapon and for a long time thereafter the American and British position was that the possession of this bomb served as a deterrent in preventing Communist armies from overrunning Europe. Winston Churchill made that very statement in one of his important speeches in the postwar years. When the Communists themselves announced in 1949 that they had "an atomic weapon," they knew that they couldn't manufacture them in the quantity or variety that the United States could.

The military strategists of the Moscow regime knew also that, if they could prevent development in America through tests, this would afford the Soviet Union a big advantage in the next war.

The Stevenson idea of a one-sided ban on superbomb tests is not altogether new. It so happened that, inside the Atomic Energy Commission during the Truman administration, there was a hesitancy to develop the H-bomb. The lag of nearly three years was costly to America. The argument was supposedly based on the moral side, and some of the scientists indirectly connected with Communist causes were lined up against further work on the H-bomb. Hence America from 1946 to early 1950 virtually put a self-imposed ban on developing or testing H-bombs while Russia went ahead with the development of bombs of all kinds and was thereby able to adopt a belligerent attitude in the "cold war" and even to instigate Red Chinese aggression in Korea.

Answered By Ike

It was suggested in April of this year in a public speech by Adlai Stevenson that America should halt the testing on her own and wait and see what Russia did. The argument he made was that, of course, the United States could later "reconsider" and resume testing if Russia made any more tests. President Eisenhower has answered this by revealing that it takes months of preparation for the tests and that valuable time would be lost if America refrained and then waited to see what Russia would do.

By E. V. Durling

Very heavy sea today. Waves are mountain high. They toss the huge liner around quite a bit. This brings to mind that not so many years ago a couple of courageous but extremely reckless fellows made the trip from New York to Liverpool in a rowboat! Makes me shudder even to think of a rowboat trying to battle those mountainous waves. That must have been a real rugged journey.

PLAYING

Am not doing so well at table tennis. I took on a Hollander yesterday, a native of Rotterdam. I stepped up too far in class. Didn't win a set. My Dutch opponent had a terrific serve and a bullet-like return. I haven't won the ship's pool yet either. You know, trying to guess the mileage the ship will make in a day. Not only that, I am losing at bingo.

But tonight they are going to have the horse races. As I told you, I have a system for that. So I figure I will get my money back and a little bit more.

GOING DUTCH

The so-called "dutch treat" is actually practiced by the natives of Holland. If a Hollander says "let's have a drink" it doesn't mean he is going to pick up the check. He pays for his and you pay for yours. Do you know the origin of the saying "He talked to me like a Dutch uncle"? In Holland when a young person is in need of guidance or a reprimand the uncle handles the situation. The idea is that a father or mother influenced by love of the child will not go far enough with the needed reprimand.

Nevada Money-Raiser Got Wrong Senator When Asking For Money

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A frantic Republican fund raiser got the shock of his life the other day when he blew into town seeking money to elect Rep. Cliff Young to the Senate.

Young, a Republican, is seeking to capture the seat of the late Pat McCarran's successor, Sen. Alvin Bible, Democrat. So far, however, Bible looks strong. Hence Young is running scared.

After arriving in Washington, the Republican from Nevada put in a hurry-up phone call to Sen. Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican who was chairman of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee, and is still a power when it comes to parceling out the GOP war chest to local candidates.

Something went wrong with the Capitol switchboard, however, and, instead of Goldwater, the Republican from Nevada mistakenly got connected with the office of Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee. Gore is a Democrat, also heads the current congressional probe of campaign contributions.

"Is the senator there? I've got to talk to him," declared the man from Nevada, breathlessly.

"No," answered Gore's secretary unaware that the caller was actually trying to reach Senator Goldwater of Arizona.

"Well, have him call me when he comes in, and if I'm asleep when he calls have him wake me up. It's important," the Nevada man declared.

Later, Senator Gore returned to his office, was told by his secretary that an excited gentleman from Nevada was trying to reach him. Senator Gore called the telephone number the Nevada man had left.

"Senator," began the man from Nevada, "we've got to have some money for Cliff Young out in Nevada. We originally figured we were 20,000 votes behind, and now we think we've got it down to only 15,000. But we're in a bad way unless we get some money. That gosh-darned senator who's investigating campaign contributions is drying up our sources. I've just come from Chicago and they're all afraid to contribute."

"Just a minute," interrupted Senator Gore, finally able to get in a word edgewise. "My name is Gore, Albert Gore of Tennessee. I'm a Democrat. There must be some mistake."

"Oh, my God!" shouted the man from Nevada, hanging up the phone, realizing that the senator he had just spoken to was the same senator who was investigating campaign contributions and "drying up" the sources.

Vacationing Senator

With scandalous reports still coming in about his last junket, New Mexico's peripatetic Sen. Dennis Chavez is preparing to take off after the election on another junket to the exotic Orient.

His last overseas trip to Europe and North Africa made headlines when he ordered the Air Force to send two 66-passenger luxury planes to fly his party home from Europe. The Air Force dutifully furnished the planes, though it cost the taxpayers an estimated $20,000. Air Force generals knew, of course, that Chavez is chairman of the powerful Military Appropriations Subcommittee.

What never got into the papers, however, was the way Chavez' son, Denni, Jr., squandered the taxpayers' money in Madrid night clubs. A secret State Department report charges that young Dennis got $4,500 in Spanish pesos from the American embassy and spent the entire amount on a gay "investigation" of Spanish night clubs.

The money was made available by Senator Chavez who, as a committee chairman, can get all the counterpart funds he wants from American embassies simply by signing a voucher. He authorized his son to collect the $4,500 by appointing him temporarily to the committee staff.

This scandalous incident has been kept secret from the public by the State Department which does not wish to embarrass a powerful senator. The Department argues that it is up to Congress to make public the overseas spending of its own members, even though the money comes from State Department funds.

However, a private report on the Chavez junket was furnished to Sen. Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican who had talked about it privately but refuses to divulge the information publicly. It is against the Senate's unwritten rules for one senator to inform on another.

The Chavez junket cost the taxpayers over $50,000, providing a fabulous vacation for his family and friends. Accompanying the senator besides his wife and son were his former campaign manager, A. T. Hannett; his personal physician, Dr. W. R. Lovelace; his administrative assistant, Charley Davis; and a number of office assistants. Both of Chavez's daughters and their husbands also joined him in Europe, though he insisted later that he "didn't even buy them a meal."

Having enjoyed his European vacation last year, Chavez is now planning a new plush trip—this time to the Far East.

A few months ago on the same page of a newspaper there appeared two striking headings: "Stevenson Flays" and "Ike Slaps."

No, there was no personal animosity, no fisticuffs, but there was a sharp verbal exchange of blows.

When the smoke of battle lifts after November 6 these belligerents will shake hands, the loser congratulating the winner, for they have only been fellow players in the opera bouffe with which the public has been regaled over TV.

The incident is mentioned here because it furnishes an example of the slap-bang conflict that is going on in our world on all levels, beginning with the lower orders of life and reaching up to genius homo.

No Native Principle

Cooperation is not a native principle, it must be acquired. It's a long distance to travel from preying on one's competitors to praying for them.

Among insects incessant warfare goes on:

"All little bugs have bigger bugs
That jump on 'em and bite 'em,
And these bugs still bigger bugs
And so ad infinitum."

Among human insects it's the same principle, dog eat dog.

Microscopic bacteria floating about in the air land on vulnerable spots in the human anatomy, propagate and cause arthritis, typhoid, diphtheria, infantile paralysis and other infectious diseases.

The human body has an army of millions of phagocytes that rush to throw out the invader. Cut your finger and they sacrifice themselves to stop the flow of blood until nature can form a new cuticle.

Nature is kind but needs the help of chemotherapy to combat disease. The antibiotics and sulpha combinations have gone a long ways in this direction. See your doctor.

At Princeton's 200th anniversary, along with Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, Dr. Selman Waksman received an honorary degree for his leading the army of microbes into battle by his discovery of streptomycin. Politics do make strange bedfellows.

Our alimentary canals are causing us more trouble than Suez. We dig our graves with our teeth.

Some live to eat, others eat to live. One becomes fat and another lean on the same diet. Caused A Famine

A fat man bumped into a rather lean one. "From the looks of you," he remarked belligerently, "there must have been a famine."

The Fort Hill High School Sentinels apparently failed to read the press clippings of the Handley High School Judges of Winchester, Va., as they handed them a 14-6 setback last night at the local stadium to take undisputed first place in the CVA League. The win was the 14th straight for Coach Bill Hahn's team.

Capitalize On Fumble

The Sentinels capitalized on a recovered fumble on the visitor's 10 early in the first quarter with Bill Powell, quarterback, going over on a keep play from the 5-yard line for the first six-point. Dalton Hillegas, right halfback, who sparked all evening with his fine running, plunged over from the five for the Red and White's second and last score. Doug Metz made both extra point tries good.

The Judges averted a shutout by driving down the field from their own 21 early in the final period with Jim Higgs, right halfback, backing over from two yards out.

The Sentinels took the opening kickoff on their 40. Dalton Hillegas broke loose on the initial play from scrimmage for 16 yards to move the ball into Handley territory at the 44. The local team continued to move down the field aided by another fine 11-yard run by Hillegas to the visitors 24 and a first down. Judges Take Over

The big Handley line, which averaged 215 pounds, stiffened on the next series of plays and the Judges took over at the 19.

Russell Potts, a substitute halfback, was hit back on his 15 on Handley's first running play, and fumbled at the 10 where Hillegas recovered. Three plays later Powell faked a pitch-out and went five yards for the touchdown with about six minutes gone in the first period.

A fine interception by Johnnie Kesler of a Handley pass by Jack Reid, intended for Pete Strum, at the Sentinel's 27, was the spark the Red and White needed for their next 63 yard touchdown drive.

Quarterback Bill Powell engineered the drive beautifully as he mixed the plays up well keeping the Judges off guard each time the ball was snapped. In this series Powell hit end Tom Snyder with a jump pass which covered 27 yards.

Pitches To Kesler

Powell faked the whole Winchester team by sending Stimmel up the middle and pitching out to Kesler who went for 21 yards to the Judges' eight yard line before being hauled down. Hillegas carried for two down to the six, and on the next play he bucked over for the second tally after being hit at the two. Doug Metz added his second point.

The Virginia team took over on downs on their 21 after a Sentinel drive ran out of gas there early in the last quarter. Potts made several runs moving the ball into the Red and White territory. Reid hit Potts with a pass for 13 yards to the Sentinel's 13. Potts carried on the next two plays to move the ball to the 2. With a third and two, Higgs hit over center for the Judges' lone six pointer. Strum's try for the point was wide.

A crowd of about 4,500 watched the local team control the ball for most of the final period. The visitors were only able to run three plays off after scoring. Reid fumbled on Fort Hill's 46 and Hillegas recovered his second fumble of the game to allow the Sentinels to run out the clock.

Bob Scheffing Named Chicago Cubs Manager

Requests Trio Of Coaches To Resign

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Bob Scheffing, rangy ex-catcher whose mild personality belies his nickname of "Grump," today was named field manager of the bedraggled Chicago Cubs.

Scheffing last season led Los Angeles to the Pacific Coast League pennant.

The 41-year-old Scheffing lost little time acting like head man, requesting new General Manager John Holland to ask the three coaches of deposed manager, Stan Hack, to submit resignations.

The coaching trio of Hack, who resigned yesterday in a sweeping Cub shakeup, includes Ray Blades, Pepper Martin and Dutch Leonard.

Scheffing has not selected his own coaches.

Scheffing's appointment was announced at a news conference by Holland, who along with Charlie Grimm, was named a Cub vice-president yesterday as two former top level executives, Personnel Director Mid Matthews and Business Manager Jim Gallagher, resigned.

It was Grimm, under whom Scheffing played as a Cub catcher, hung the "Grump" monicker on the new Bruin boss because of his stony visage.

Scheffing and Holland came to the Cubs as a front office-field boss team from the Cubs' Los Angeles farm club where Holland was president this year.

Although Scheffing and Holland teamed up at Los Angeles only last year, the new Cub field boss is convinced Holland can give him strong help in leading the Bruins out of the National League wilderness.

Scheffing plans to bring up the entire outfield from the Los Angeles team which won the PCL pennant by 16 games. All have had previous Cub trials and were found wanting, but Scheffing says all have improved.

About the 1956 Cubs, who finished with their worst record in history, 60-94, Scheffing said he would go slowly on making changes. However, he observed that Ernie Banks, the top Cub hitter, wasn't playing well at shortstop. Scheffing declined to say if Banks would be shifted to another infield position but he ruled out any switch to the outfield.

Scheffing said he wasn't bothered by the fact he received only a one-year contract with a tail-end club which has finished in the bottom division for 10 years.

"I don't think they expect miracles," he grinned. "I've worked for this organization for some time and know I'll be treated all right if I deserve it."

Romney Defeats Beall, 27 To 6

FROSTBERG, Oct. 12 (AP)—The Romney (W. Va.) High School Pioneers ran roughshod over Beall High's Mountaineers here tonight, 27-6.

Romney racked up two touchdowns in the first quarter. J. Hannas tossing a 20-yard pass to Divens in the end zone for one and Ayers taking a Beall punt on Romney's 30 and racing 70 yards for the other. Divens kicked both extra point.

Beall's touchdown came in the second quarter when Groves grabbed a lateral from Pete Wilson and bolted 38 yards.

Romney tallied twice more in the final quarter. J. Hannas circling right end for the final four yards and Hannas passing to Hott in the end zone.

CASEY SIGNS TWO-YEAR PACT — It's a great day for the world champion New York Yankees, but another bad day for other baseball managers as Casey Stengel, whose teams have won seven pennants and six world titles since he came to the Yankees in 1949, signs a new two-year pact with the club. Flanking Casey are co-owner Dan Topping, left, and general manager George Weiss. Casey is expected to get about $75,000 a year under the new contract. (AP Photofax)

Nashua To Vie In Gold Cup At Belmont Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Six rivals plan to give Nashua a going away party tomorrow in the $50,000-added Jockey Club Gold Cup, while 14 younger horses hook up in the rich Futurity at Belmont Park.

Two years ago Nashua won the Futurity, became the winter book choice for the Kentucky Derby, and last fall Mr. Millions grabbed the Gold Cup for the Belair stud of William Woodward Jr. Two weeks later Woodward was accidentally shot and killed by his wife, and Nashua was sold to the Leslie Combs II syndicate for $1,251,200.

Win or lose, Nashua races for the last time in the Gold Cup, for he departs Monday for Lexington, Ky. to parade before the homefolk at Keeneland race course Oct. 18. The winner of $1,251,965 in purses will enter stud duty next year.

The Llangollen Farm's Mister Gus, who upset Nashua in the Woodward Stakes two weeks ago, will attempt a repeat in the two mile Gold Cup. Nashua has collected $306,550 for the syndicate, and with seven starters tomorrow the race will gross $54,700, the winner grabbing $36,600.

About 40 minutes after the Gold Cup will come the Futurity, which could produce a new juvenile champion and a colt to bear watching for the 1957 Kentucky Derby.

Miami Turns Back Terps

Hurricanes Down Maryland, 13-6

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 12 (AP)—Blocked ahead on the ground by a big, tough Maryland line, Miami's Hurricanes went into the air lines to night to defeat the Terps 13-6 for their third straight victory of the football season.

When a fine goal line stand by Maryland stopped one Miami drive a foot short of pay dirt, quarterback Sam Scarneccia and Bonnie Yarbrough began pitching and each completed a touchdown pass to build a 13-0 lead for the Hurricanes in the third period.

Scarneccia nailed John Bookman with a 23-yard scoring throw for the first Miami score in the second period and Yarbrough, a sophomore southpaw, pitched six yards to Jack Johnson for the other Hurricane touchdown in the third quarter.

In the last period, Maryland escaped a shutout by driving 80 yards through a rainstorm to score after most of the 44,304 fans had fled from the stands. Fred Petrella set up the touchdown with a 24-yard throw to Dick Porter and scored it on a one-foot plunge.

Maryland now must be nursing a bitter hatred for the Orange Bowl, for this was the fourth straight time the Terps had been beaten in the big Miami stadium. They dropped two straight New Year's Day decisions to Oklahoma and were stopped by the Hurricanes here in 1954.

Except for the last-period drive, Miami kept the Maryland attack well under control and the Terps had not made a serious threat. Their deepest earlier penetration carried to the Miami 25.

Manager To Draw $75,000 Per Year

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Charles Dillon "Casey" Stengel, who once was paid not to manage the Brooklyn Dodgers, today signed to pilot the world champion New York Yankees for two more years.

The announcement was made at a press conference by General Manager George Weiss, who said, "We've been happy with Casey ever since he came to the club."

The 66-year-old Stengel, who will draw around $75,000 a year on the new contract, was his usual talkative self.

"I don't see why I have to retire as long as my health is good," he said. "And I feel mighty good. Particularly since the World Series."

Stengel wasn't always one of baseball's most successful managers. When he began his career with Brooklyn in 1934, there were none who figured he would win seven pennants and six world championships. But that's exactly what he's done with the Yankees.

Taking over from Bucky Harris in 1949, Casey led the Yanks to the flag the next five seasons, finished second to Cleveland in 1954 and then wound up on top in 1955 and 1956. The seven-game setback by the Dodgers in '55 was his only Series defeat.

Today the beaming Stengel was a far cry from the man who was let go as manager of Brooklyn after the 1936 season but continued to draw salary the following year under terms of the contract.

"I want to thank everybody, the officials, the players—just everybody," he said. "It's been a wonderful season and I'm looking forward to the next two as much as the last eight."

Potomac State And Shepherd Clash 30th Time Today

Homecoming Game Set For Keyser Field

Unbeaten Cats Seek Fifth Victory In Meeting At 2 P.M.

KEYSER, W. Va., Oct. 12.—Potomac State's unbeaten Catamounts will clash with Shepherd College's Rams today at Stayman Field here in one of the oldest rivalries in the West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference. The meeting in the Homecoming Game at 2 p. m. will be the 30th in the series between the two eleven.

The contest will mark the first appearance of new coach Jesse Riggelman against the charges of coach Dana "Horse" Lough. Riggelman, one of Shepherd's all-round athletic greats, took over the football reins at Shepherd this fall after coaching at Petersburg High the past five seasons. Lough has been at the head of Potomac State grid teams for the past 22 years.

Tied With Fairmont

The Catamounts, currently tied with Fairmont State for the league lead, have dumped Glenville, 38-20; West Virginia Tech, 25-0; Davis & Elkins, 46-6; and Salem, 33-12. Shepherd has beaten Glenville, 13-0, and Newport News, 18-7, while losing to Fairmont, 2-0, and to Shippensburg Teachers, 14-2.

The game today will be a renewal in reverse of last season's battle at Shepherdstown when the Rams defeated Potomac State, 33-0, on the way to their first unbeaten season in history and the WVIAC title. Potomac State has won 22 of the 29 games played to date with three ending in tie scores.

Coach Lough is planning to move Howard Berger from tackle to end with John Garrett taking over Berger's position. Tom Ogilby of Cumberland and Bill Hartman, Keyser, will play at guard. Left end Joe Bundy, fullback Jerry Whitehouse and halfback Ed Helmski are nursing injuries for the Catamounts.

Come In Quarterback

Shepherd has one of the biggest lines in the small college conference and is quarterbacked by Roy Comer, former Ridgeley High athlete.

On the high school front today Northern High's eleven will visit Oakland to battle Southern High's Highlanders. Both teams will be striving for their second victories of the season.

Frostburg State Booters To Host Penn State Frosh

FROSTBURG, Oct. 12.—Coach Ken Babcock's Frostburg State Teachers will play host to the Penn State College Frosh Saturday in a 2 p. m. clash here.

The Bobcats will be seeking their second victory, having opened the season last week with a 3-2 triumph over Lock Haven, Pa. Teachers, Last year the two teams battled to a 2-2 tie at State College, Pa.

Allegany High Class Of '27 Plans 'Annual'

Plans for the observation of its 30th anniversary next spring are being made by the Class of 1927, Allegany High School.

A dinner-dance is scheduled for Saturday, June 29, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

The class plans the publication of its third "annual" since graduation. The first was published on the 10th anniversary, and the second on the 21st anniversary. A reunion has been held each year since graduation.

In charge of the "annual" are T. Donald Shires, James Alfred Avrett, Mrs. June Farrin Porter, Miss Marion P. Rosenmerkel, Mrs. Miriam Klawan Mirkin, Reatus L. Spiker, Mrs. La Vonne Robinson Young, Joseph Feldstein, and Miss Elizabeth Wolford.

Entertainment will be in charge of Mrs. Mirkin, Mrs. Helen Daugherty Caldara, Mrs. Elizabeth Heintz Hodges, and Mrs. Margery Muncester Hazelwood. Harold C. Wickard, Allegany teacher, will be the advisor.

Miss Rosenmerkel will be in charge of the dinner-dance. She will be assisted by David Sigel, Mrs. Gladys Apple Pitzer, Mrs. Alice Durrett Reitz, and Mrs. Porter.

All of the committee members reside in Cumberland with the exception of Mrs. Reitz who lives in Williamsburg, Va.

In addition to the usual vital statistics, it is planned to publish in the "annual" current photographs of class members, a summary of occupations, employment, hobbies, average income figures and other matters of interest. John R. Wentz, New York, and H. Walton Blume, Washington, will do the art work.

Lions To Hear Israel Official

The Cumberland Lions Club has engaged Mordechai Shalev, first secretary of the Embassy of Israel in Washington, to address the organization next Wednesday at the noon luncheon at Central YMCA.

Shalev's appearance here has added interest in view of the situation in the Near East and the conflict of the new-born country with various Arab countries.

Shalev is a native of Czechoslovakia, where he was born in 1915. He spent part of his youth in the United States, studying at the Talmudical Academy High School and Yeshiva College in New York City. Later he attended Masaryk University in Brno, Czechoslovakia. He holds a master's degree from American University in Washington.

Shalev went to Israel in 1939 and early in World War II volunteered for service in a Palestinian unit of the British Army, in which he served as a lieutenant until 1946. He was editor of "Radio Week," a publication of the Palestine government. He served as a brigade adjutant with the rank of captain during Israel's war of liberation. He entered the foreign service of Israel in 1949 and in 1951 took up his present position with the embassy in Washington.

State Farm Bureau To Hold Convention

The Maryland Farm Bureau will hold a convention in Baltimore on November 16 to consider problems affecting agriculture in the state.

Ralph W. Ferguson and three members will represent Allegany County, while G. Emerson Bishop and five members will represent Garrett County.

Tax Receipts Jump Reported In District

Sales tax receipts, an economic yardstick, show that business was 17.15 per cent better in Allegany County during the fiscal year 1955-56 over the previous year.

The annual report of the state sales tax by J. Millard Tawes, comptroller of the treasury, shows $1,006,169 was collected in this county, an increase of $147,331 over the collections for 1954-55, which totaled $858,838.

The $1,006,169 is the highest for Allegany County since the sales tax was instituted during the administration of Governor W. Preston Lane for the fiscal year of 1947-48.

The previous highest collection was $996,828 the year before Cumberland's economy went into a recession state due to the crisis in the textile industry.

The all-time low during the past nine years was at the depths of the recession in 1951-52 when the collection amounted to $816,957.

But since that low year, business has increased steadily. In 1952-53, the total was $818,576 and the following year, 1953-54, before it reached $858,836 in 1954-55.

During the past year, the biggest increase, percentage-wise, in the class of business, was in building materials and contractors category.

In this class, collections increased 39.44 per cent, a jump of $28,243 from $71,611 to $99,854.

Moneywise, the biggest hike in sales tax collections was in general merchandise. In this the amounts moved from $232,896 to $279,776.

Next biggest jump moneywise and percentage-wise was in furniture and appliances. In 1954-55 the collections in this class amounted to $90,383 and last year the total was $124,839.

The automotive field also showed a big improvement, increasing from $60,357 to $81,420 last year, a jump of $21,063.

Other figures are:

Food and beverage from $105,515 to $113,488.

Apparel from $100,068 to $104,841.

Utilities, transportation from $95,070 to $98,354.

Miscellaneous from $74,072 to $80,286.

Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 12.—(INS)—Finally Andy Griffith, star on Broadway of "No Time For Sergeants," was nailed down by Jack Warner for the lead in Warners picture version, J. L. who went to New York for conferences with Serge Semenenko, telephoned from New York to say that Andy had put his "John Hancock" on a contract.

This was good news for Mervyn Le Roy, who produces and directs "Sergeant" starting in December. Merv is the white-haired boy on the lot since "Bad Seed" has brought in so much moola. I think they were all pretty worried about the subject matter of this picture at Warners, which is a shocker all right.

All eyes were agog at the Stork Club in New York when William Holden walked in with a beautiful blonde. Bill told me: "I hurried to introduce my daughter Virginia, whom I had taken to see 'My Fair Lady' and then on to the Stork Club. Sherman Billingsley said he was glad to see the younger generation."

Speaking of Bill, he met today with Y. Frank Freeman and signed a new deal to make seven pictures for Paramount with time out for his own Toluca productions. Originally Bill's contract called for six Paramount pictures. He had made all but one and that deal was ready to expire.

My weekly staff luncheon was brightened by the presence of Tony Perkins, who, acting as his own press agent, called to deliver some Jim Pearsall bats as a plug for his picture "Fear Strikes Out." This was all Tony's own idea—he said he wanted to meet me in this informal way and believe me, I hope he will come again.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Terry Time

When you step down from the tub, give yourself a brisk rub-down with a big soft Turkish towel. This is splendid stimulation for the circulation and will make your skin glow all over.

There are even certain exercises you can do with the towel that will firm the contours.

1—Place the towel across the shoulders in a cross motion up and down the back. Draw it away to the left and away to the right. Be sure you don't neglect the waistline and hip area. You can adjust the hand position as necessary.

2—Now continue on down across the buttocks holding towel in horizontal position. Always extend the arms as far in each direction to the left and away to the right.

3—Next bring the towel across the chest, pulling it back and forth.

4—Hold the towel diagonally so that part of it comes under the right breast, rub it slantwise across the diaphragm. Reverse the positions so as to work on the left side of your diaphragm.

5—Hold the towel straight across the waistline in front and work it up and down across the abdomen. Shift it a little into a diagonal position over the left hip. Then over the right hip and work vigorously the full length of the towel.

6—Place the left foot on the edge of the tub. Hold towel so center is under the thigh. Now work in a crosswise motion from the thigh to the ankle and up again. ... paying great attention to the inner thigh and knee bulges. Now do your right leg in the same way.

Monday — Beauty or Charm? DO YOU MEASURE UP?

These easy-to-use tables show you how to calculate your ideal measurements from head to toe. They will make figure readjustments simple and accurate. For a copy of "Do You Measure Up?" send 10c (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper.

Trading Light But Market Makes Moderate Advance

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Today's close in the stock market made a moderate advance today in light trading. It was another dull and thin market as volume totaled 1,330,000 shares, second lowest of the week, compared with 1,760,000 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.00 to $180.00 from the industrials up $1.40, the rails up $1.10 and the utilities up 30 cents.

The most active stock was Sharon Steel, up 1 1/2 at 50 1/2 on 28,500 shares. Second was Sperry Rand, off 1/4 at 23 1/2 on 231,900 shares. Third was American Telephone, up 1/4 at 168 1/2 on 21,300 shares.

Next came United Dye and Chemical, up 1/4 at 10 1/2, and U.S. Steel, up 1/2 at 69 on 15,500.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were irregularly lower on volume of 630,000 shares compared with 530,000 yesterday. Gains were made by Northeast Airlines, St. Lawrence and Fairchild Camera. Losses were taken by Flying Tiger, Stroock and International Petroleum.

KEYSER—Announcement was made Friday that E. G. Kimmel, well known local realtor and banker had disposed of his property holdings on Armstrong Street, by sale to George H. Rinard, local jeweler, of South Mineral Street.

The property sold Friday contains five businesses and three second floor apartments. At the time of the building of the Keyser-McCool bridge across the Potomac River, Kimmel owned other property on North Mineral Street, but he sold it to the state for ground for the bridge right-of-way and a continuation of North Mineral street.

Mr. Kimmel said he will continue his office in the west end of the property, renting from Mr. Rinard. He made it clear he is not going to retire. The property sold Friday was built 30 years ago. At one time he owned the property along Armstrong Street, from the alley east of South Mineral to the Mineral Street corner and south on North Mineral to the bus station. The Times-News Bureau has occupied quarters on the first floor of the Kimmel property since shortly after the close of World War II.

Forty Firms Meet Chest Drive Goals

$105,670 Raised As Campaign Rolls On

Forty firms qualified for Gold Star awards yesterday as the first report meeting brought the total raised in the Cumberland Community Chest Campaign to an audited $105,670.98.

The report was presented at noon as workers announced progress made since Tuesday night, when the general campaign opened with an unprecedented start of $100,154 toward the $137,000 needed to operate the nine Red Feather agencies.

Residential Division workers, Dr. Lillian C. Compton reported, have collected $1,870.33 in their door-to-door campaign.

The Classified Division staff, Woodward D. Pealer and Edward L. Ewald said, have raised $28,809.65.

Sales Army workers already have $1,790.65 and are hard at work. Harold D. Barber announced.

A "Good Start"

Advance Gifts collections totaled $73,201 as the general drive opened, according to Edmund S. Burke, chairman.

"It's a good start," General Chairman Lewis J. Ort said, urging the United Fund workers to shoot for at least $120,000 at the second report meeting.

This meeting will be a joint session with the Rotary Club Tuesday at noon in Central YMCA, according to Barber, who heads the Rotary Club and the Sales Army.

Yesterday also marked the first report meeting for solicitation among workers building the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant.

Reported was $900 of a voluntary $5,000 goal. Workers reported they hope to finish the job by next Friday.

Howard Turner, project superintendent for Consolidated Engineers, prime contractor for the $34,000,000 plant, reported it reasonable to expect that craft workers will raise $4,000 of the goal and said he hoped contributions by contractors will put the campaign there over the top.

40 Meet Goal

Twenty-six firms in the Classified Division have met or exceeded their goals. Pealer and Ewald said. They are:

Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Kelly Springfield Tire Company, Western Maryland Railway, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, Cumberland Office Supply, Rosenbaum Brothers, Clapper Oil Corporation, Allegany County Tax Collector.

Mayor's Office, South Cumberland Planning Mill, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, First National Bank, Potomac Valley Television Company, Metropolitan Insurance Company.

Mail Call

Three-year-old Roger Northcraft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Northcraft Jr., 403 Arch Street, is shown above looking over "get well" cards which he has received in recent weeks. The youngster is a victim of acute leukemia, and the disease is incurable. Roger, sporting his cowboy boots and railroad jeans, would like to have more colorful cards from well-wishers.

Young Leukemia Sufferer Likes Comics, Enjoys Mail

By CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

A three-year-old local boy plays with his toys and sports a pair of cowboy boots just like any other active boy his age—although he probably is wondering why he is spending so much time in the hospital.

Roger Northcraft, who lives at 403 Arch Street with his mother and father and little brother, returned home Thursday from Memorial Hospital, unaware that he is a victim of acute leukemia.

Roger's father, Clarence Northcraft Jr., is a brakeman for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and works out of Brunswick. Last night young Roger was dressed up in his cowboy boots and his railroad jeans, and was keeping his mother company while his daddy was away working.

School System Plans Study Of Parent Groups

County Program To Be Evaluated

Now that the first workshop is over, the pupil personnel department in the Allegany County public school system is preparing a study of the parent discussion group which has been in effect the past four years.

The workshop was conducted Wednesday at West Side School with Dr. Donald Stanger of the Child Study Institute at the University of Maryland as consultant. About 170 persons attended the workshop which centered on the subject "Meeting The Emotional Needs of Children."

Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel, said one significant change in this workshop was that for the first time two men parents attended. Previously, only the mothers have been attending. Miss Dorothy Shires, state supervisor of pupil personnel, attended the workshop.

Next Session In January

The next workshop, for discussion group leaders only, will be conducted by the pupil personnel department in January.

Last year there were 17 parent discussion groups in the county schools. In their study, Higgins and his associates would like to know what changes have taken place in knowledge, attitude, and actual behavior of individual members through participation in the groups. He would like to know whether the children benefit from parent participation.

The dominant emphasis for four years has been on content, organization and leadership training. Now that the importance of feeling, tone and emotional relationship has been recognized, it becomes necessary to examine methods used by the groups.

Opinions Sought

For purposes of evaluation, Higgins now seeks the opinions and informal observations of members of the groups. Reports are sought from the secretary and recorders. Secretaries will furnish information on the number and dates of meetings, number of participants, an attendance record of each person and the reasons why some persons drop out of the group.

Recorders will supply information on the topics discussed, questions raised by parents, resources used, types of programs used, group leaders and an evaluation.

Missionary To Talk At Church Here

Dr. E. Pearce Hayes, noted Methodist missionary, will speak at both worship services tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. and 11 a. m. at Centre Street Methodist Church.

His father, the late Dr. Edward Hayes, served as pastor of the local church.

After completing his education, Dr. Hayes spent 25 years in China, first as pastor and teacher, and later as missionary district superintendent.

Twice he was driven out by the Communists. The last time he barely escaped from the "Iron Curtain" and was forced to travel many dangerous months half way around the world.

Since the Communist domination of China, Dr. Hayes has served many of the mission interests of East Asia.

The public is invited to attend the two services tomorrow, according to Rev. Howard M. Amoss, pastor.

Teachers To Meet

The Legislative Committee of the Allegany County Teachers Association will meet with county legislators Monday at 7:30 p. m. in Allegany High School.

The legislative hearing will be conducted by State Senator Charles M. See and members of the Allegany County Delegation to the General Assembly.

Home Economics Teacher Named For Allegany High

Mrs. Mary Price Hager, 54 Linden Street, Frostburg, is the new home economics teacher at Allegany High School, according to Assistant Superintendent of Schools Richard T. Rizer.

Mrs. Hager began teaching at Allegany this week, succeeding Mrs. Georgia Steiding, who had taught home economics the first month of the school year.

A 1944 graduate of Beall High School in Frostburg, Mrs. Hager then attended Western Maryland College, where she received an A.B. degree in home economics in 1949. She taught first and second grades in the Highland School, Baltimore County, the next two years.

Since 1951 she has been a housewife. Married to Dr. Robert C. Hager, local dentist, she is the mother of two children. Her duties at Allegany place her in charge of the practice house where girls get practical experience in keeping house as a part of their home economics course.

Butler Stumps Near D.C.; Mahoney Meets Farmers

Final Touches Being Added To Senator's '1950' Statement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—Sen. Butler campaigned again today for votes in the Maryland suburbs of Washington while his campaign headquarters here was putting the "finishing touches" on his long-awaited "1950 campaign" speech.

The speech, in which Butler hopes to put to rest once and for all charges resulting from his 1950 victory over former Sen. Millard E. Tydings, is scheduled for 10 p. m. (EST) Monday, on a Baltimore television station (WMAR-TV).

His aides have indicated Butler will "pull out all the stops" when he answers the 1950 issue which his opponent, Democrat George P. Mahoney, has been hammering at since the campaign began.

A Senate elections subcommittee called it a "despicable, back street" type campaign.

Campaign Highlight

Not only will the speech mark the opening of the stretch drive, the final three weeks of campaign, but it promises to be one of the most important points of Butler's campaign for reelection.

He has been working on it for two weeks and his headquarters said today the "finishing touches" are still being applied.

In contrast to his campaign efforts earlier in the week, Butler's pace today was leisurely. He spent the morning making paid television film political announcements.

He introduced Undersecretary of the Treasury W. Randolph Burgess to a luncheon of the Baltimore Life Underwriters Assn. Then this afternoon, he returned to the Prince Georges and Montgomery County suburbs of Washington where he attended several party teas in private homes.

Will Speak Again

Tomorrow, he speaks at a Prince Georges rally at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Stephens in University Hills. Butler's headquarters said it expects between 200 and "50 persons at the outdoor rally."

Meanwhile, another high-placed Republican was scheduled to make a campaign speech in Maryland. Fred A. Seaton, secretary of the interior will speak at an rally Tuesday at Denton on the Eastern Shore.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, Secretary of the Treasury Humphreys and Vice President Nixon already have announced speeches in Maryland in the next week.

Oldtown WAC Home From Fort Riley

Miss Helen Mallory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mallory Sr., Oldtown, who enlisted in the WAC last November, has been home on 15-day leave from Fort Riley, Kan., where she is now stationed.

Lower Corn Prices Will Help Party, Says Demo Aspirant

BISHOPVILLE, Md., Oct. 12 (AP)—George P. Mahoney, campaigning for the Senate on the Eastern Shore today, was told the price of corn—now $1 a bushel compared with $1.40 four years ago—means votes for the Democrats.

That's the story Mahoney and Hamilton P. Fox, Democratic candidate for Congress, heard from some farmers on their tour of Worcester County today.

Typical of the complaints were those of L. D. Fooks of nearby Whalesville, a corn and soybean farmer.

Fooks said the price of corn has been going down steadily over the past four years.

Better "Under Truman"

"The last good prices we had were under Truman," he said. "We got about $1.40 a bushel then." The farmer said he now can get only $1 a bushel or slightly more.

And Fooks predicted Shore farmers will "vote for the Democrats right down the line." He guessed that four years ago a lot of farmers on the Eastern Shore voted Republican "because they didn't know when they had a good thing."

This area voted overwhelmingly Republican in 1952.

"We want 90 per cent of parity," Fooks said, adding that he gets about 70 per cent of parity under a Republican administration.

He also said the broiler industry, the Shore's biggest, is in equally bad shape. Fooks said chickens are selling for 16 cents a pound compared with 30 or 32 cents under the last Democratic administration.

The Sealed Envelope

In Berlin, later in the day, Melvin P. Davis, a farm implement dealer, backed up Fooks' contention of falling prices.

Davis said that on election day 1952, he wrote down the current prices of three major Eastern Shore farm commodities. Then he put the list into an envelope to be opened on election day, 1956.

Davis said he opened the envelope early, a few days ago, and the 1952 prices had fallen in an amount almost identical with the drop claimed by Fooks.

Heading the Worcester County delegation which met Mahoney was O. Sheldon Chandler of Berlin, chairman of the county Democratic committee; State Sen. Ralph Mason and Dels. Russell Hinkman, Hartley Stevens and Mrs. Myrtle Tok. Also on hand was Raymond Coates of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Worcester County, a former supporter of Millard Tydings, who opposed Mahoney in the primary.

Hospitalized

Mrs. James G. Stevenson, 120 West Second Street, wife of the clerk to the county commissioners, is a patient in Memorial Hospital.

Realtors Told Market Will Continue Good

225 Attend State Conference Here

The real estate market will be as good as or better than last year, Fred B. Huebenthal, Chicago, predicted here last night at a banquet climaxing the semi-annual conference of the Maryland Real Estate Association.

Speaking at the meeting attended by some 225 Maryland realtors and their guests, Huebenthal pointed out that home building last year was a major factor contributing to good business conditions.

The volume this year, widely predicted to reach 1,200,000 as compared to 1,329,000 in 1955, he said, could increase as the demand for homes in most parts of the country continues strong.

"Repair and modernization of homes is becoming big business," Huebenthal said. "The volume now is estimated at $12,000,000 a year, or equivalent to new residential building."

Construction work, he said, should go seven per cent above last year to break all previous records—and assure a good business year.

"When construction is strong, the economy is strong," Huebenthal said, adding:

"More people are employed than ever before. Income generally is at a new high. Business and industry are spending more than ever before for plant expansion."

Mayor Roy W. Eves welcomed the state realtors to their first official visit to the Queen City yesterday afternoon.

In spite of the distance, officials reported attendance at the Columbus Day meeting was as good as at previous sessions held in Hagerstown.

A feature of the afternoon session was a panel discussion on problems and benefits under the 1956 Federal Housing Act.

Under the law, property is more easily financed, Arthur W. Sherwood, state director of the Federal Housing Administration said.

The law also covers houses for elderly people who desire houses of their own under liberal FHA financing, regardless of age, if they have the ability to pay.

Amendments to Law 898, said C. W. Nixon, state director of the Veterans Administration, extended the termination date for home loans to July 25, 1958, and allow a veteran to be relieved of liability when he sells his property—if the loan is current and the veteran asks for relief from liability, and the new purchaser applies for credit.

Local Army Man Killed In Crash

Sgt. John James Markey of Braddock Road was killed last night when his car collided head-on with a truck half a mile east of Hagerstown on U. S. 40.

Markey, 40, was crushed to death when the truck overturned on him after he was thrown from the car.

The Washington County Sheriff's office said Markey was driving east alone when his car swerved into the left lane at Antietam Bridge.

A truck headed in the opposite direction swerved into Markey's lane to avoid striking the car. The vehicles met in the middle of the road.

Sheriff's deputies held the truck driver, George H. Silverman, 46, of Pittsburgh, on a charge of manslaughter by motor vehicle.

Sgt. Markey, who was a Regular Army assistant unit advisor for the Army Reserve here, was on his way to a meeting at Fort Holabird.

Greets Real Estate Panelists

Mayor Roy W. Eves chats about some of the Queen City's famous landmarks as he greets panelists who appeared on yesterday afternoon's session of the Maryland Real Estate Association's semi-annual conference. In the group are C. W.

Nixon, state director of the Veterans Administration; Arthur W. Sherwood, state director of the Federal Housing Administration; Mayor Eves and Leslie Wilson, vice president of the Mortgage Banking Association of Maryland.
